

Name:

PCEP February '02
TOXICOLOGY
Lynn Wittwer, MD, MPD

1. What is the mechanism by which Glucagon can effectively treat Beta Blocker overdose?
2. How does calcium effect muscular contraction?
3. What is the mechanism of action of Clonidine?
4. Why is it imperative to never administer Calcium in the presence of Digitoxin toxicity?
5. List the contraindications to the administration of Flumazenil.
6. What is the indication for Magnesium administration in the TCA OD patient?
7. What types of patients are at high risk for developing Torsades?
8. Why is Propranolol not used for the treatment of hyperadrenergic agent OD?
9. Why is Atropine an effective antidote for Organophosphate ingestion?